

AN ADVANCE BY BULLER

Occupies South Bank of Tugela River and Seizes the Bridge.

BOERS READY FOR HIM ARE STRONGLY ENTRENCHED FOUR MILES NORTHWARD

List of Casualties Among Officers and Men at Battle of Ladysmith

Free Staters Busy Gathering Harvests In British Territory—Gen. Buller Has Evidently At Last Begun His Flanking Movement but the Swollen River Has Checked Him In the Execution of It—Boers Are In Strong Force at Springfield and Potgeiters Drift.

London, Jan. 12.—[Special Cablegram] Gen. Buller's reports from Springfield, west of Colenso, under yesterday's date are as follows:

"I occupied the south bank of the Tugela river at Potgieters Drift this morning and seized the bridge. The river is flooded. The enemy is strongly entrenched four and a half miles to the northward."

General Buller's report confirms the rumors in circulation here yesterday that he was on the move toward Potgeiters Drift about ten miles west of Colenso, and near the extremity of the Boer's right. Gen. Buller evidently has at last begun the flanking movement, but according to his own report the swollen river brought him up short in the execution of it. The Boers are in strong force north of Springfield and Potgeiters Drift. They have long anticipated an attack by the British at those points.

A partial list of the casualties among the officers in Saturday's battle at Ladysmith was received this morning. The list of dead is headed by Lieut. Col. Dick Conyngham of the Gordon Highlanders. One major, one captain and seven lieutenants were also killed. Six majors, seven captains and six lieutenants were wounded.

The London Imperial Volunteers received the freedom of the city today. The first contingent will sail for South Africa tomorrow.

May Be An Oil Steamer

The life saving service has been active all day, but the sea is running so high that it is impossible for any boat to ride it. There is a plausible suggestion that the wrecked vessel is an oil steamer and not a passenger steamer as at first supposed.

The water is calming and particulars will probably be obtained this afternoon. Only three men were observed aboard this morning, two of whom were washed overboard. The third is now in the main rigging. He appeared to be an elderly man. There is no doubt but that all the rest on the ship are lost.

Gathering British Harvests.

Cape Town, Jan. 12.—[Special Cablegram]—The Free State authorities are impressing every available man in the country, including foreigners for military service. They are also employing natives with hundreds of reaping machines to gather harvests in the British territories now occupied by them.

NEITHER SCOFIELD NOR BABBITT

Both Failed to Appear at Milton Junction—Farmers' Convention Adjourns This Evening.

Milton Junction, Jan. 11.—[Special]—The entertainment given at the Grange hall last night for the benefit of the Farmers' Convention was a decided success. The hall was packed and the audience was pleased with the affair.

The program announced for this morning was somewhat marred by the non-appearance of Clinton Babbitt of Beloit, who had been scheduled to speak on the "Care and Feeding of Cattle." Mr. Babbitt was reported on the sick list. Gov. Scofield was scheduled for an address this afternoon on "Taxation," but he sent a telegram that he would be unable to attend on account of important state business.

The program was filled in with a general discussion of farmer topics. This afternoon D. F. Sayre and George McKerron delivered addresses and the convention will adjourn this evening, having had a profitable and instructive session.

THE WATERTOWN HOUSE PAYS

Manager Myers Made No Mistake When He Secured Lease

P. L. Myers, manager of the Myers Grand Opera house, returned home this morning from Watertown where last evening he played the famous German actor and playwright, Adolph Philippi and his original New York company of thirty-five people.

The theatre, which is under Mr. Myers' management, was crowded to the very doors the best seats selling at one dollar. Manager Myers says his Watertown house is liberally patronized whenever a first class attraction is secured. An effort will be made to bring Adolph Philippi and his company here.

RUSSIA IS GETTING VERY AGGRESSIVE

Peremptory Demand Made By the Czar For Chinese Territory Claimed By England.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 12.—[Special Telegram]—The digest of opinions of the principal Chinese-Japanese papers as received today by the steamer Empress of Japan, thirteen days from Yokohama, indicate that Russia is unmistakably revealing its intentions in the far east.

The China Gazette says that, taking advantage of England's pressing engagements in South Africa, the Russian government through its consul at Hankow, has revived its claim to the Jardine-Matthewson land, making a demand for the property in the most peremptory fashion.

The Russian consul claims that the question of the disputed ownership of the land has been absolutely decided in favor of his government, and he has announced his intention to take forcible possession of the property without further negotiations. His actions are said to have been extremely high-handed.

Relations between the British and Russian residents are strained to the breaking point.

M'COY WILL MEET CHOYNSKI TONIGHT

Clever Boxers to Battle in New York City—Hoosier is the Favorite.

New York, Jan. 12.—[Special Telegram]—"Kid" McCoy and Joe Choynski are the next of the top notchers to meet, and will box twenty-five rounds tonight before the Broadway Athletic club. No one expects the fight to go to the limit, and it is generally conceded that McCoy will win, but everybody admits that he is going to face a clever fighter and an excellent ring general, and that Choynski always has a chance.

McCoy is still in good form from his recent battle, requiring very little work to keep in condition. Choynski has trained hard for this fight and will enter the ring as good as he ever was. The principal betting is even money that he will not last ten rounds with the Hoosier with makers and takers equally confident of their opinions.

ARE LOOKING FOR A VICE PRESIDENT

Roosevelt Again Brought Forward by Washington Political Gossips to Run for Second Place.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—Secretary Root's refusal to be considered a candidate for vice president, as he wrote to H. C. Payne of Milwaukee, was confirmed personally by the secretary today. At the same time ex-Secretary Bliss promptly denied the stories of a secret conference with the president regarding second place on the ticket. Mr. Bliss neither expects nor desires the nomination. He retired from the cabinet on account of the illness of his wife and himself, and has no wish to take up the burden again.

Members of congress and officials have started in on a new series of political speculation, but it is a curious fact that while new names are suggested, reference is always made to Governor Roosevelt. There has been a constant feeling that while he does not want the place, he has practically refused it in advance, and prefers to take his chances for first place in 1904. Roosevelt would add strength to the ticket politically.

There are those who believe Schley will be offered a second place on the democratic ticket, and in that event they consider Roosevelt's nomination to be a politically necessary.

GIVES M'KINLEY ALL AUTHORITY

Philippine Bill Introduced By Senator Spooner of Milwaukee.

UNTIL CONGRESS ACTS

Party Leaders Favor Vesting Full Power in the President.

Senator Spooner Proposes, Not a Declaration of Intentions By Resolution, But a Law of Congress By Which the President Is Given All Authority Until the Rebels Have Been Suppressed.—The Bill Is Endorsed By the Party Leaders.

Bill by Senator Spooner.
When all insurrection against the authority and sovereignty of the United States in the Philippine Islands shall have been completely suppressed by the military and naval forces of the United States, all military, civil and judicial powers necessary to govern the said islands shall, until otherwise provided by congress, be vested in such persons and shall be exercised in such a manner as the president of the United States shall direct, for maintaining and protecting the inhabitants of the said islands in the full enjoyment of their liberty, property and religion.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Yesterday afternoon the republican party for the first time showed its purpose in regard to the Philippine islands. This was done through a bill offered by Senator Spooner of Wisconsin, after consultation with the president. It represents the policy of the republican party in congress and in the executive branch of the government.

The resolutions introduced by Mr. Beveridge and to which he spoke on Tuesday, was good enough as far as it went, but it amounted only to a general declaration of the intention of the United States to establish a government in the islands.

Senator Spooner proposes, not a declaration of intention through a resolution, but a law of congress, and this law places in the hands of the President of the United States, until the insurrection has been suppressed, all authority over the islands.

President to Remain Master

Such authority is already in the hands of the president by virtue of his constitutional command of the army and the navy, but if the present situation is to continue for some time, and the President is to remain the absolute master of the territory, he naturally desires and should have the express authorization of congress to that end.

After such a law shall have been passed it will be impossible for anyone to doubt what the policy of the American government is as to those islands, and it will be impossible for anyone to say the president is maintaining a control which rests on military occupation alone.

Senator Spooner's bill, which was introduced by most of the Republican leaders of the senate as well as by the President, the Republicans of congress intend to take up as soon as the financial bill shall have been disposed of and passed after debate.

Situation Must be Studied.

Their attitude is that at this session of congress it is manifestly impossible to prepare the scheme of a civil government. The insurrection still continues in a fugitive sort of way and till it is suppressed the control must necessarily be of a military character. The situation in the Philippines must be studied for a long time before this country is ready to go into the details of the government which must ultimately be established.

Meanwhile it is only just to the people of the islands and to the administration that the President be given the express authorization of congress to carry on the government there by such agencies, military civil or mixed as he may deem best; and this it is proposed to give him as soon as possible.

WILL ARBITRATE LABOR TROUBLES

National Building Trades Council Agrees on that Idea at Milwaukee.

DEMAND AN 8 HOUR DAY

Shorter Hours For All Workmen Engaged In Construction of Buildings.

All Union Men Will Be Compelled to Use a National Working Card—Permanent Arbitration Committees Will Be Named to Settle All Difficulties and Strikes Will Be a Thing of the Past.—The St. Louis Fair—Important Labor Convention Session.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 12.—Arbitration of labor troubles by joint conference committees composed of contractors and officers of labor unions was introduced today by the convention of the National Building Trades Council. All of the local Building Trades Councils affiliated with the National Building Trades Council were recommended to meet their employers and secure their consent to the establishment of permanent arbitration committees.

Speaking in regard to the arbitration committees Secretary Steinbiss said in his report that the establishment of permanent "joint conference" committees formed of equal numbers of contractors and laboring men would have a good effect on the building industries and would prevent many necessary strikes and lockouts.

To Demand Eight Hour Day

One of the recommendations of the secretary was that all building trades councils affiliated with the National Building Trades Council compel their unions to demand an eight hour working day. The recommendation, which was adopted, means a universal eight hour day for all laborers who are engaged in the construction of buildings.

A recommendation that a universal working card be issued by the National Building Trades Council was adopted. All unions will be compelled to use the national working card after the adjournment of the convention.

The recommendation that a union label be placed on all buildings was reported unfavorably by the committee on the grounds that the adoption of the plan was impracticable. A recommendation that the Building Trades Council of the various cities should compel all unions affiliated with them to join their national or international organizations was defeated.

As to St. Louis Fair

In order to prevent the delay of the work on the St. Louis World's Fair buildings, the convention passed a resolution pledging the support of the National Building Trades Council to the support and asking that the contractors for the exposition meet the representatives of labor organizations and arrange wage scales and working hours before commencing construction.

The label of the National Brickmakers' alliance was endorsed by the convention, and the local building trades councils were recommended to see that brick bearing the label was used on all buildings constructed by workmen belonging to their organizations.

WARSHIPS ORDERED TO SANTO DOMINGO

French Government Anticipates the Arrival of the U. S. Gunboat Machias.

Santo Domingo, Jan. 12.—[Special Cablegram]—The French government anticipating the arrival of the United States gunboat Machias in these waters has ordered two more warships to Santo Domingo. These vessels are expected to reach here tomorrow.

Paris, Jan. 12.—Here in Paris the San Domingo situation is considered grave, since Admiral Richard was sent to the island with the cruisers Suchet and Fronde of the French Atlantic squadron. The first interview between the admiral and the president of San Domingo has been productive of no good results and new negotiations will be renewed.

The admiral insists that the government of San Domingo must express regrets for the outrage on the flag of France by an apology, and this apology the island government refuses to make. The admiral also considers that the arrival of American warships will be interpreted as an act of hostility against France, thus occasioning new troubles.

The French warships have been instructed to protect the cable so that communications between San Domingo and France will not be interrupted.

SHIPWRECK ON A REEF

Big Ocean Steamer Strikes Rocks off the Coast of St. John, N. F.

IT IS BELIEVED TO BE A LARGE PASSENGER LINER.

Many Persons Lashed to the Rigging Have Been Washed Overboard.

The Vessel Is Reported to Be Laying With Her Head In the Water and Being On Fire Aft—The Disabled Boat Lies About Five Miles From Shore—Everything Was Being Done Today to Reach the Steamer—May Be Only An Oil Steamer.

St. John's, N. F., Jan. 12.—[Special Telegram]—Every effort is being made today to reach the unknown steamship wrecked on the reef in St. Mary's Bay. It is now feared that all hands have perished. The night was bitterly cold and it is unlikely that any of those lashed to the rigging could have survived.

Steamer On Fire Aft.
St. John's N. F., Jan. 12.—[Special Telegram]—A large steamer believed to be a passenger ship whose name cannot yet be ascertained, has been wrecked on a reef in St. Mary's bay, about five miles from the shore. The vessel which lies with her head in the water, is on fire aft.

Several persons were washed off the deck during yesterday afternoon.

Just before midnight last night others were desecrated in the rigging. It was feared that these would perish before daybreak.

St. Mary's Bay lies at the southern extremity of Newfoundland. A steamer aground on its coast, if it is a passenger boat, is likely to be a liner plying between Montreal, Quebec, and the English ports. Since the Scotsman was wrecked in the Straits of Belle Isle, to the north of the island, all passenger vessels have taken the longer but supposedly safer southern route. The position of the stranded ship does not, however, preclude the possibility that it is a liner bound to or from an American port much out of its course. The coast is a dangerous one, but it is near an inhabited district and probably is under life service patrol. St. John's is the nearest port to the scene of the wreck. The wreck of the Scotsman, Dec. 21, took place out of the path of vessels, and in consequence the passengers spent four days upon a barren island, without shelter and with little food. The Scotsman was of the Dominion line.

A Theater for Workmen.

Arthur Krupp, a cousin of the great German iron founder, erected a theater a year ago in Berndorf, Austria, for the benefit of the workmen employed in his great steel works at that place. It was to have been dedicated by the Empress Elizabeth, but her assassination occurred just before the time set for the ceremonies. Recently Emperor Francis' Joseph formally opened it in the presence of a great crowd. The theater is small, seating but 500 but it is described as being very beautiful in its decorations and adornments and most complete for the purposes to which it is to be devoted.

HUMPTY DUMPTY NEXT WEEK

Magnificent Production at Myers Grand Tuesday, January 16.

The "Fall and Rise of Humpty Dumpty" will be seen at the Myers opera house next Tuesday evening. This magnificent production is a typical English pantomime, combining extravaganza and harlequinade. The first half is devoted to the fairy tale of how "Humpty Dumpty" sat on the wall and meeting with a sad accident took a tumble, which broke him all up.

The Kings horses and men failed to put "Humpty Dumpty" together again; but the good fairies were very powerful and could accomplish anything and it is by their aid we see the most marvelous transformation from chaos to perfection and happiness. In honor of the good work and triumph of virtue, the revels of the Harlequinade burst forth in the second part and run riot.

The mythical four (Harlequin, Columbine, Clown and Pantaloon) take possession of the town and play mischief generally; the butcher, the baker and candle-stick maker are alike terrified and made the sport of these funny rascals. There is no telling what they will do—a touch of the magic wand will turn a grass widow into a potato patch and make the woodenest looking pump give milk already sterilized.

There is no telling the wonders of this play—you must see it; it is simply three hours of music, dancing, magic and spectacle.

A NOVEL IDEA MODELED ON RICH OLD DESIGNS.

Lace Applique With Fur and Picked Out With Jewels—Golden Seal, Beaver and Fine Sable Fur Introduced Upon the Heavier Laces.

In tentative fashion last year foreign modistes introduced what some of them now declare will be the feature of the coming season—to wit, lace applique with fur and picked out with jewels. Was ever such regality known since mediaeval days? Such blending of the rich and rare is a consummation that will prove, as fuel to the extravagant tastes of the hour. How to compass fashion's demands in this particular, how to arrive at this acme of the superb and elegant, is a problem for all but the most fortunate. Passing by the jewels for the moment, an English fashion authority grapples as follows with what is expected to be the dominant idea in lace trappings—the introduction of fur as an applique on the lace pattern:

As these laces are likely to be very costly, and from their nature only small quantities can be used, it would be wise to devote a little time to producing at home short lengths, which will convert a simple dress into a very handsome one. Many gowns will be made with a distinct front breadth, and these front breadths are to be narrow. The new fur lace will fall at the hem, it will not need to be put on full in any way, and it will be repeated as a vest, low bodice height, the straight portion put in at the waist, the scallops appearing at the top. The design which appears in the first cut is exactly suited. The foundation for the fur is French batiste, and where these large bold lilies and the finer leaves are shown it is there that the fur has to be applique, the markings and the outline worked either in buttonhole stitch or with a fine lace cord or in gold cord. The scallops have a foundation of network, the edge worked with French embroidery cotton Nos. 30 and 100, and the uniting bars have the picots familiar to all lace workers.

A golden seal, brown seal and beaver are the best furs for the purpose unless fine sable can be used, but it is possible to procure from furriers small cuttings which, though invaluable for lace, are useful for very few other purposes, and some of the cleverest makers of this lace adopt their patterns to the morsels they have in hand.

For all such laces it is necessary to have some bold, substantial flowers, and it would seem that such laces never look so well as on a groundwork of net. But it is always necessary that with the fur there should be a background of either lace stitches or linen applique, which blends well with the dark fur, that alone would seem too heavy and somber. Indeed the fur ought to be used sparingly, that it may not be too heavy for the lace.

A great recommendation in this work is that it gives plenty of scope for ingenuity. I have chosen a leaflet (see second cut) that I have seen introduced on the top of a low bodice, down the sides of the skirt and forming the border to a bertha on another, all of which hail from Paris. There were only two leaflets of fur, and the rest were worked with the stitches, as shown.

The lace must be of the heaviest makes for this new work. Italian laces, English point, Spanish point and some of the pretty French laces are all suitable, and it is astonishing how much effect a very little fur makes.

Fashion's Echoes. Scalloped edges are very fashionable on jackets, sleeves, overskirts, etc.

A mouse gray felt sombrero with round crown and a band of two shades of velvet twisted together represents a favorite fall hat for golf and country wear.

Dark red, brown, tan, biscuit and fawn glaze kid gloves will be much worn this fall.

SPORTING COSTUMES.

French Shooting Dress—The Flat Versus the Divided Skirt.

In shooting, as in all sports where walking plays a prominent part, a useful and comfortable costume is a question of enormous importance. Elegance is relegated to the second line, says a writer in the European edition of the New York Herald, in preface to the following:

Since the bicycle has come into such universal use the question of shooting costumes has become greatly simplified for women who ride in petticoats—we need not speak of the rest—and the frightful, puffly knickerbockers are no more than a memory.

The short petticoat, plaited all round and flat at the waist, which was formerly in vogue, thanks to its special "chic," is also abandoned as unnecessarily heavy and ungainly for the figure. There remains the choice between the divided skirt and the real flat skirt. The latter, which is more feminine, differs slightly from the ordinary cut. It is very tight round the hips, but has nevertheless a seam behind and on each side two very narrow stitched plaits, like gores, over the hips, giving the fullness necessary to admit of freedom in rapid walking. In front an apron, on the cross, is attached on each side by stitched tabs, with the buttons showing. The skirt, which reaches just below the knees, is weighted slightly round the bottom with a false hem of the same material as the costume and lined with thick linen without stiffening.

The divided skirt (jupe pantalon) has the same apron, but the seam in the back ends below the hips, leaving loose the two parts of the skirt, which, thanks to the sloping at the bottom, produced by the prolongation of the gores by the biased seam, give sufficient width to enable them to be buttoned on each side of the apron, thus forming, so to speak, a small skirt for each leg.

With both of these forms knickers, light at the top or puffed and confined below the knee by a broad band of india rubber, are necessary, whether the skirt is made of thick coutil, black satin or corkscrew cloth, according to the wearer and the season. For underwear I should advise combinations in woven cotton or silk or even cashmere wool, never thread. This recommendation extends to stockings. After a long walk thread may cause an irritation of the skin.

With skirts of corkscrew or mixed cloth in all shades of beige a small jacket, fitting in the back, but cut perfectly straight in front, with one row of buttons, is much the more useful, and, whether open or buttoned up, leaves the movements of the shoulders perfectly free. Beneath it should be worn a cambric chemisette, either colored or tartan, with high broken collar and soft cuffs, or, better still, a sporting cravat forming a false collar in soft pique, attached by a jewel, simple and masculine in style. With the cold will come the same chemisette in light flannel or a small waistcoat like a man's, in the same material as the costume or—which is very chic—a deer-skin waistcoat in Cape suède.

This word naturally suggests the remark that suède gloves are the only ones pleasant to wear when shooting.

Among costumes illustrated by The Herald is a stylish one in beige and brown plaid cloth trimmed with plain beige cloth.

THE CRISIS IN KENTUCKY.

Republican Appeal Held by Democrats to Be a Call to Arms.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 12.—The republican party of Kentucky, through its chairman, C. M. Barnett, has issued an address to the people of the state which is regarded as incendiary by democrats. They say it is a call to arms to aid the republicans now holding state offices at Frankfort to resist all efforts of the democrats to unseat them. The address says a great crisis is now on in Kentucky, and unless immediate action is taken anarchy will reign. It also says in spite of the election machinery being in the hands of unscrupulous politicians, and great frauds having been committed at the polls, yet the republicans received a fair majority, and now the democrats are seeking to take it from them.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Unless an official request should be received from the governor of Kentucky, federal troops will not be sent to the Blue Grass state to preserve order. The president does not desire to interfere in any way in the political situation in Kentucky. He believes it is to the interest of the state as well as to the general government that Kentucky should be allowed to work out her own salvation. Should the legislature take action to expel Mr. Taylor from the gubernatorial seat, and disorder should follow, the president might find it necessary to recognize Mr. Taylor as the lawful authority of the state and comply with his appeal.

HANGED FOR BURNING COAL.

Strange Law Which Was in Force in England in 1500.

There will be an interesting function in London shortly, when the coal exchange celebrates its jubilee. The occasion is one for recalling strange reminiscences; for as late as the fourteenth century a prohibition was issued against the burning of coal, with severe penalties decreed against any person who warmed his house by a coal fire. In the early days of Lord Mayor Whittington the burning of coal was considered so great a public nuisance that it was made a capital offense, and one man was actually hanged for indulging in a coal fire. As a matter of fact, this ordinance was never repealed, but in "Dick Whittington's" third mayoralty it is evident there was a great trade in coal, and the suggestion has been made that coal was brought to London in boats known as the "cats," this was the real origin of the story of Dick Whittington and his cat. The coal exchange, however, is a modern institution. It is also one of the most important of London's marts. Under the shadow of its domed roof commercial transactions are daily carried through of greater value than in connection with any other mercantile building in the world. Unlike the corn exchange in Mark lane, it is not a private concern, but is a city market conducted on the same principles as the other markets opened by the city corporation. Opened with much ceremony, in October, 1849, by the prince consort, the present building is just about to celebrate its jubilee. But the market itself is older than the building. Up to 1807 it was in the hands of private individuals, but in that year it was purchased by the corporation for £25,000.—London Times.

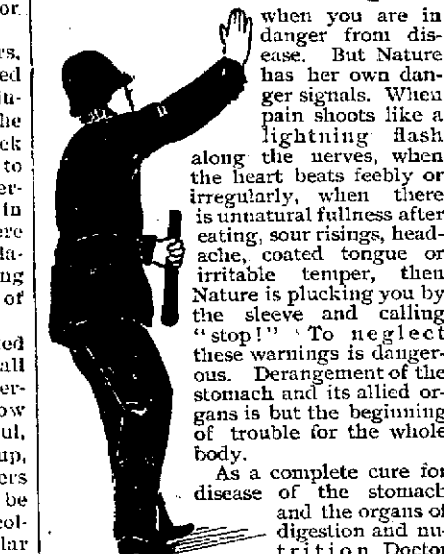

Fire Loss at Ripley, Mich.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 12.—Fire destroyed the foundry, office, pattern shop and one warehouse of the Portage Lake machine works at Ripley Thursday, causing a loss of $85,000. The machine shop, with the work on hand, was saved. The insurance is $40,000.

To Be Tried as Rebels.

Cape Town, Jan. 12.—The Dutch colonialists who were captured at Sunny-side will be brought here and tried as rebels.

There is no policeman to enforce the laws of health and to call "stop!"

when you are in danger from disease. But Nature, has her own danger signals. When pain shoots like a lightning flash along the nerves, when the heart beats feebly or irregularly, when there is unnatural fullness after eating, sour risings, headache, coated tongue or irritable temper, then Nature is plucking you by the sleeve and calling "stop!" To neglect these warnings is dangerous. Derangement of the stomach and its allied organs is but the beginning of trouble for the whole body. As a complete cure for disease of the stomach and the organs of digestion and nutrition Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery stands without an equal. It purifies the blood, cleanses the system of poisonous accumulations, nourishes the starved nerves and builds up the entire body, blood and bone, muscle and nerve. "It is with pleasure that I tell you what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets' have done for me," writes Mrs. T. M. Palmer, of Pease, Kaufman Co., Texas. "Two years ago I was taken with stomach and bowel trouble. Everything I ate would put me in distress. I lived two weeks on milk and even that gave me pain. I felt as though I would starve to death. Three doctors attended me, but I got no better. I had dyspepsia, two said catarrh of the stomach and bowels. They attended me (one at a time) for one year. I stopped taking their medicine and tried patent medicine, got no better, and I grew so weak and nervous my heart would flutter. I could not do any kind of work. Now I can do my housework very well, am gaining in flesh and strength, and can eat anything."

Shaw Begins His Second Term.

Des Moines, Jan. 12.—The second inauguration of Capt. Leslie M. Shaw to be governor of Iowa was attended with auspicious circumstances and favorable surroundings. He begins his second term with the state in the best condition it has ever been. The inaugural address of the governor was largely devoted to the question of trusts. He also advocated sound money. In his allusions to monopolies he explained that he offered no solution, but desired to awaken agitation on a subject that must receive careful attention. In the hope that concentrated thought would evolve some plan that would appeal to the reason of all legislators.

Children Burned to Death.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—The two children of Peter Strzykowski were burned to death yesterday in Hawthorne. Matches used as playthings and an overturned lamp caused the accident. The parents, who had been visiting neighbors, returned in time to rush through the flames and seize the children and carry them out of the house, but their bodies had been burned so that they were then scarcely recognizable. The children died within a few minutes.

Limits Military Powers.

Havana, Jan. 12.—Gen. Wood has issued an order defining the relations between the civil and the military authorities. Except in a purely supervisory sense, the military authorities will not interfere in the conduct of civil affairs beyond matters of sanitation and public undertakings of a sanitary character. The military authorities will also have general jurisdiction of all the rural guard of the island.

Fear an Automobile Invasion.

Berlin, Jan. 12.—The report that the American automobile manufacturers are preparing for an invasion of Germany on a large scale has revived the demand for the tariff revision that the bicycle-makers clamored for when American wheels flooded the European markets.

Wealth of the Banks.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The comptroller of the currency has prepared a statement showing the condition of all the national banks of the country at the close of business on Dec. 2 last. The total resources and liabilities of the banks are given as $4,475,343,723.

Iron Dearer Than Gold.

Machines in a watch factory will cut screws with 589 threads to an inch. These threads are invisible to the naked eye, and it takes 144,000 screws to make a pound. A pound of them is worth six pounds of pure gold.

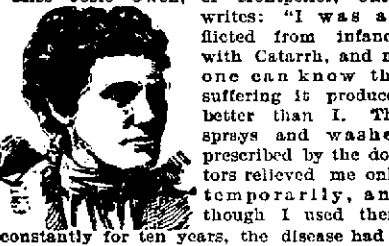

All German Boys Learn Trades.

Catarrh is Not Incurable

But it can not be cured by sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures which reach only the surface. The disease is in the blood, and can only be reached through the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which can have any effect upon Catarrh; it cures the disease permanently and forever rids the system of every trace of the vile complaint.

Miss Josie Owen, of Montpelier, Ohio, writes: "I was afflicted from infancy with Catarrh, and no one can know the suffering it produces better than I. The sprays and washes prescribed by the doctors relieved me only temporarily, and though I used them constantly for ten years, the disease had a firmer hold than ever. I tried a number of blood remedies, but their mineral ingredients settled in my bones and gave me rheumatism. I was in a lamentable condition, and after exhausting all treatment, was declared incurable. Seeing S. S. S. advertised as a cure for blood diseases, I decided to try it. As soon as my system was under the effect of the medicine, I began to improve, and after taking it for two months I was cured completely, the dreadful disease was eradicated from my system, and I have had no return of it."

Many have been taking local treatment for years, and find themselves worse now than ever. A trial of will prove it to be the right remedy for Catarrh. It will cure the most obstinate case. Books mailed free to any address by Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

ABOUT GEN. OTIS.

The Army and Navy Journal is the journalistic authority of "the service," and its opinion may be taken as reflecting the sentiment of Uncle Sam's soldiers and sailors. Its estimate of General Otis, therefore, is of interest at this time. It is as follows:

We always asserted that when agencies proportioned to the task were placed in his hands Gen. Otis would fulfill every expectation of his friends. The correctness of this judgment is shown not only by the rapid destruction of Aguinaldo's army, but by the facts contained in the report, which puts it beyond all doubt that Gen. Otis for the better part of the year was in a situation where he had to face complications of unusual character with a shifting and changing force upon which he could not count with certainty. Such forces as were at his disposal would have made his campaign a serious matter had he been within easy reach of home, but thousands of miles distant, he was compelled to act with a caution that made him the mark of attacks that were the less venomous because unintelligent. We predicted that the day when Gen. Otis was properly reinforced would see a speedy end of the war, and no one who has followed the conduct of the campaign these last weeks will deny that our prediction has been amply fulfilled.

As we study the exhaustive report and are able to see the relation of each of his official acts to the whole plan of campaign, which we could not do from the scattered and unsatisfactory cable advices, we can form a better idea of the fine administrative skill with which Gen. Otis met all the questions of civil government in Manila and in the outlying islands, and which represented the highest type of soldierly equipment. There never has been a time when Gen. Otis has been unequal to the task laid upon him, but there were many months when the pressure of the campaign seemed to be upon the responsibility that he assumed and appeared willing to shift them upon a soldier who was too well trained to complain and too patriotic to seem suspicious of the national spirit behind him.

A dispatch from Marinette says the equalization commission appointed by Judge Hastings for Marinette county has filed its report. It is a second victory for the city, the valuation of the city of Marinette having been reduced $448,000, the same as in the equalization of 1897. All the other towns in the county are increased as follows: Peshtigo, $295,750; Amberg, $37,375; Coleman, $22,400; Crivitz, $1,950; Grover, $36,750; Wausaukee, $29,575; and Porterfield, $18,700. Peshtigo is contesting the equalization of 1897 and the question is now in court. The city has applied for another commission to equalize the appointment of 1899.

And it now transpires that there was no truth in the story that a strike was on in the Sauk County insane asylum. Nobody believed it anyway. People in insane asylums do not get mad at every little thing and quit. They are all patients.

Senator Beveridge says the government given the Filipinos must be "simple and strong," and he is right—the simpler and stronger, the better, not only for the Filipinos but for all other people as well.

While Senator Beveridge was speaking Senator Hoar, alone, busied himself in writing letters, etc. While Senator Hoar was speaking, Senator Beveridge listened, and the other senators all wrote letters. "Tis well."

DIRECTED TO HATCH THE MUSKALLUNGE

ANNUAL MEETING OF FISH COMMISSION AT MADISON.

Supt. Nevin Has Now On Hand $40,000,000 Bushel of Lake Trout Eggs—Expenses $25,412.61, receipts $26,000—All the Hatchers In Good Condition—State News.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 12—The State Fish commission at its annual meeting in the governor's office at the state house yesterday afternoon, directed Supt. James Nevin to hatch as many muskallunge as possible this winter for distribution next spring. It also instructed him to arrange for several additional ponds for black bass at the Madison hatchery. Minor improvements at the Oshkosh and Bayfield hatcheries were decided upon.

Supt. Nevin submitted a report showing that he has now on hand 40,000,000, or 160 bushels of lake trout eggs. These are being hatched and will be distributed among the streams and lakes of the state as soon as the fish are large enough to look out for themselves. All the hatcheries were reported in good condition. The disbursements during the year were $25,412.61. Receipts $26,000 from the state and $707.50 from other sources, leaving a balance of $1,294.90 in the treasury. Of the total disbursements the Bayfield hatchery got $8,423.47, the Oshkosh hatchery $4,084.14, the Madison hatchery $3,738.86 and the railroad hatchery $4,630.46. Several large ponds for breeding trout were put in at the Bayfield hatchery at a cost of $2,400.

In speaking of the Bayfield hatchery, Supt. Nevin said that owing to the excessive rainfall the work there cost about one-third more than it would have cost in an ordinary season. The collection of lake trout at Bayfield was the largest in the history of the hatchery, affording over 30,000,000 ova. There was a larger percentage of loss in eggs than usual last year, owing to their infertility and the lack of skill of some of the men handling them.

MOTIVE OF SUICIDE NOT KNOWN HERE

NO FURTHER PARTICULARS REGARDING LIEUT. GREENE

Carried Life Insurance and Had Interest in Southern Undeveloped Coal Lands—Leaves Mother, Three Brothers and Two Sisters—Disposition of Remains Not Known Here.

Why Lieut. F. E. Greene should have taken his own life is a question that remains unanswered. His method of suicide is also unknown. From the government the bereaved wife in this city received no message up to a late hour this afternoon. Mrs. Greene expects telegraphic details either this evening or tomorrow.

The government officials have taken charge of the body and will see to its shipment to this country. No definite details have been made as to where the body will be buried.

Lieut. Greene leaves life insurance, having a $3000 policy in one company. He also had other insurance. It is not unlikely but what the government will grant the bereaved widow a monthly pension. Lieut. Greene was also interested in undeveloped southern coal lands.

Besides a wife and two children he leaves an aged mother, two sisters and three brothers. One of the brothers is expected here this evening from Kansas City. Relatives from Vincennes, Indiana, are also expected. Mrs. Greene has the deepest sympathy of many in this hour of sorrow.

His Record Was Excellent.

The officer's record at Washington are at a loss to account for the suicide. His record was excellent and he had not known bad habits.

Lieutenant-Commander Frances E. Green was born in Indiana and was appointed a midshipman in 1867. He graduated in 1871, becoming an ensign in 1872, a master in 1875 and a lieutenant in 1882. He made cruises, in turn, on the Yantic, the Alert and the New Hampshire, and came to the naval proving ground in 1890. The following year he was on duty at the Washington navy yard, where he remained until 1893, when he went to the Pacific coast on the coast defense ship Monterey.

He was in service on the Ranger, the Adams and the Petrel, and again at the Washington navy yard in 1896. In the following year he was attached to the Alliance, but when the war broke out he became the executive officer of the Montgomery. He became a lieutenant-commander in 1899 and was again ordered to the Montgomery on the South Atlantic squadron, where he was serving at the time of his death.

Grief at Vincennes.

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 12.—Universal grief was felt here at the announcement of the death of Lieutenant Frank E. Greene in Uruguay. He was born and reared in Vincennes. He entered the United States naval academy about the close of the civil war. The deceased was a son of the late George E. Greene, Sr., the famous and fearless war time editor of the Vincennes Sun, and a brother of the Hon. George E. Greene, Jr., now mayor at Vincennes. Another brother is fighting in the Philippines, being a non commissioned officer in the Twenty Second United States regiment.

WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER.

Michael Griffin.

Michael Griffin died last evening at ten minutes after ten, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Griffin, 14 Park avenue. By his death many will mourn the loss of a popular young man. Several weeks ago Mr. Griffin was taken ill as the result of a sudden breaking down of his nervous system. Instead of improving, his condition gradually grew worse. His eyesight failed him, and he went all but blind. A host of friends here came to his rescue, and a benefit dance was given him in the Armory. This respite the sufferer a neat sum, and was needed help at the right time. During the past few days Mr. Griffin's condition had been fast failing. Wednesday he took to his bed. Mr. Griffin would have been twenty-nine years old on the 30th of May next. He was unmarried.

Our brother Joseph Griffin and our sister Miss Etta Griffin, both of this city, are left to mourn the loss of a loving brother. From St. Patrick's church funeral services will be held Saturday morning, at 9:30 o'clock and the burial will be made in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Mrs. Caroline Horn.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Caroline, wife of Charles Horn, was held from the house, corner of South River and Union streets, this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and from Trinity church at 2:30. The Rev. J. A. M. Richey conducted the services and the interment was in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. William Horn of Hale's Corner, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Faber of Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reeder of La Crosse, and Mrs. A. F. Walker of New York city, were in the city to attend the funeral.

Miss Emma Shields.

The remains of the late Miss Emma Shields arrived in the city this noon. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home in the town of Harmony.

Harvey Smith.

Funeral services over the late Harvey Smith, were held from the house, 126 Chatham street, this morning at 10 o'clock. The interment was in Oak Hill cemetery.

Tomorrow forenoon we begin selling Miss Mead's home made cakes, pastry, etc. Call and try them. W. W. Nash.

L. B. CARLE AND SON MAKES LARGE SALE

SELL FIVE HUNDRED CASES TO C. F. TALLARD.

Good Demand For Old Tobacco These Days—Thirty-one Crops Received Here This Week By T. B. Earle of Edgerton For the American Tobacco Company of Cincinnati.

Trading in the new crop has been rather quiet since the holiday vacation. There is some riding continually being done in the growing districts but the aggregate transactions fall away short of what they were a few weeks ago. Choice lots still bring top prices but a good proportion of late sales are made at moderate figures and doubtless include same export grades, says the Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter.

Hugh McInnes received 31 crops, 200,000 lbs., at Janesville, Wednesday, for T. B. Earle. The tobacco was forwarded to the American Tobacco Co., at Cincinnati in bundles.

Old leaf continues to be in good demand and is selling in fair sized lots. C. F. Tallard purchased a 5000s lot of '98 of L. B. Carle & Son, and 52cs of Pomeroy & Peiton for the account of the Havana American Co. Frank Baines sold 267cs of '97 to an eastern manufacturer. C. L. Cullen reports the sale of several lots of old leaf.

The deliveries continue liberal at the warehouses, nearly all of which are operating now with full force. Considerable bundle leaf is being shipped out of the state to be handled in other markets. The damp weather early in the week has afforded growers a chance to remove the last of their hanging tobacco and finish stripping.

The shipments out of storage during the week have been among the largest of the season, upwards of 45 loads, 2,284 cases have gone forward besides 9 cars of bundle leaf. During the week 12 carloads have been received from outside points. Since last report 4,422 cases of cigar leaf were exported from New York.

REV. WILLIAM NEWTON TELLS HIS TROUBLE

HAS BEEN EXTENSIVE TRAVELER FOR MANY YEARS.

Testified in the Municipal Court this Morning in the Case Against the Advent Christian Church—Tells a Straightforward Story—Has Been to Africa.

Rev. William Newton, plaintiff in the action for the collection of $100 salary against the congregation of the Advent Christian church of the town of Magnolia, took the witness stand in the circuit court of Rock county this morning and in a straightforward way told of his troubles.

Fifty members of his congregation were on hand to listen to the person tell how he was deprived of his hard earned money.

The taking of Rev. Newton's testimony occupied the entire morning.

In part Rev. Newton said:

"In September, 1899, I was served with a notice to vacate the parsonage. I then had a talk with the deacons and members of the board of trustees about the matter. Certain members of my congregation notified me to pay no attention to the kickers to keep right on preaching. Then one of the leading men of the church came to me, and with tears streaming down his face, said: 'Elder, its too bad. Its too bad.' I am 46 years of age and was born in the province of Quebec, Canada. In 1892 I came to the United States and became a citizen. In 1875 I was ordained in the city of Montreal, Canada. I studied at Oxford, England, one term. From the city of Montreal I went to Africa via London, England, landing on the western coast of Africa. In Africa I remained three years in behalf of the Methodist church. Then I returned to Canada and then to England. That was in 1881.

The year 1882 found me in Egypt as army chaplain. On leaving the army I went to the city of Cairo and from there to the Suez canal where I smiled for England. Then I sailed for America, arriving in New York at Christmas time 1888. On landing in New York I went to Canada where I remained until 1890, preaching the Methodist gospel. Then I returned to New York City where for two years I did missionary work among the poor. Then I went to Nashville, Tenn., to do evangelistic work. In Nashville I remained six months and on account of sickness went to Kentucky. My wife and I then did mission work and I tell you we had to hustle. Then we went to Indiana where I preached the gospel of the Advent Christian church at Jeffersonville. I then went to Henryville where I was starved out. Then in August, 1896, assumed charge of the church at Magnolia."

When Rev. Newton had finished his testimony several other witnesses were examined. The case will in all probability go to the jury either late this afternoon or tomorrow.

Afghan Justice.

Not many years ago a queen's messenger or some such official was robbed though not injured in any way, on his road to Cebul, Afghanistan, and the British government, of course, wrote to complain. No reply was received for months, but at last, the Ameer wrote: "The matter you mention has been thoroughly investigated, and not only have the robbers of your messenger been put to death, but all their children, as well as their parents and grandparents. I hope this will give satisfaction to her majesty, Queen Victoria." The "satisfaction" of the queen may be imagined.—Baltimore News.

Vast Populations.

The British and Chinese empires between them hold sway over more than half the total population of the world, which is estimated at 1,509,000,000. China comes first with 402,030,000. Britain next, with 338,488,469. The estimate of the Chinese population, however, is little more than a guess. The next eight highest powers are as follows: Russia, 129,545,000; France, 70,467,775; United States, 62,929,706; Germany, 62,818,901; Austro-Hungary, 41,358,386; Japan, 41,318,215; Netherlands, 38,852,451, and the Ottoman empire, 39,212,900.

Negro Population of Baltimore.

Baltimore is said to contain the largest negro population of any city in the world. The coming census is expected to show at least 125,000.

MONROE RANDALL WAIVES JURY TRIAL

AT THE COUNTY HOSPITAL RECEIVING TREATMENT.

When Brought Into Court Defendant Admits That the Asylum Is the Proper Place For Him—Arrested On a Farm Yesterday By Officer Cochrane.

Monroe Randall waived a trial by jury and pleaded guilty before Judge J. W. Sale of the Rock county court, on the charge of being of unsound mind. In charge of Officer Wallace Cochrane the unfortunate man was taken to the county asylum, where he will be cared for.

When Drs. J. B. Whiting and Le Roy Hedges made an examination into the alleged insanity of Mr. Randall, and pronounced him of unsound mind, his arrest and detention was ordered. Then when officers started out for their man he was nowhere to be found. Officer Wallace Cochrane took the Magnolia road, driving out to the Davis farm, located near the golf grounds of the Sinsissippi club. Randall was found seated near the stove in the kitchen. When informed that he was wanted in town he made no resistance and rode in with the officers.

Randall says he waived a jury trial because he wanted to secure treatment as soon as possible, believing that in a short time he will again be himself. He has been residing with his mother on Madison street. He is unmarried, and thirty-six years of age.

The Sea-Elephant.

A paper recently read before the Linnean society in London describes a species of seal, attaining enormous dimensions, to which the name of sea-elephant has been given on account of a trunklike appendage on the fore part of the head. A specimen killed in the Falkland Islands was nearly nineteen feet in length. The trunk is only a foot long. These seals are peculiar to the southern hemisphere.

Bird Friends of a Boston Policeman.

From the Boston Evening Record: On a short street leading from Washington street every noon there is a little occurrence in which a policeman figures, and which attracts the attention of many passers-by. The officer comes there to ring in a duty call and then gets some peanuts from a near-by stand and begins to whistle. In a moment dozens of pigeons begin circling around him, and he shells the peanuts, holds out his hand, and the pigeons light on his arm and hand and eat as many peanuts as they can get. One brown one is particularly tame and greedy, and will eat a pint of them, the officer says. Many people come there every noon to watch the little show.

HEAVY LOSSES AT LADYSMITH

Eight Hundred British Soldiers Killed or Wounded.

BOER CASUALTIES ENORMOUS.

According to Reports, the Burghers Lost 2,000 Men in the Battle—Food Is Said to Be Plentiful in the Besieged Town.

London, Jan. 12.—A general estimate of the British and Boer losses as a result of the triple Boer attack on Ladysmith last Saturday was received in London last night. According to this report, which is semi-official, the British had fourteen officers killed and thirty-four wounded, while over 800 men of the rank and file were killed or wounded.

The Boer losses, according to the same sources of information, were over 2,000 killed and wounded.

So far as known here, neither side made any captures.

The hand to hand fighting, which followed each of the three assaults, probably accounts for the heavy losses.

Kitchener's Herculean Task.

Lord Kitchener and Lord Roberts are up against the hardest game they have ever faced in their lives, a fact which both doubtless realize. With Lord Methuen's forces demoralized, Buller and Gatacre both suffering for lack of confidence in themselves, owing to their serious defeats, with the Seventh army corps not yet started, with the general lack of horses and wagons and face to face with an army of men equally as clever as themselves and flushed with a series of pronounced successes, Lord Kitchener will soon discover that he is confronted with a task much more complicated than the one in Egypt he carried out so masterfully well.

Lord Roberts has seen more fighting than Kitchener, but he, too, has done most of his fighting, practically all of it, in fact, against savages, so if these two commanders, on whose shoulders the entire hope of England rests, fail to meet many surprises before they get through the guesses of all the experts who have followed the course of the war are wrong.

Buller May Plan a Surprise.

Buller, with his army of 30,000 men, is still apparently inactive, although many here hold to the belief that some secret move is afoot that will take Joubert's army by surprise and wipe out the record of past reverses. Lack of news as to the whereabouts of Warren's division lends color to this belief, but it is certain that something must be done at once or White and his entire garrison will be on the way to Pretoria, prisoners of war, and the valuable guns in Ladysmith will be turned against the imperial army.

Methuen's Recall Not Confirmed.

Although the war office declines to confirm the report that Lord Methuen has been recalled to England, inquiries made by a correspondent at Methuen's home in Wiltshire have elicited the information that when he received his wound his horse threw him heavily, and spinal and other injuries supervened.

Food Plentiful at Ladysmith.

Private advices from Ladysmith, dated Jan. 2, state that rations of bread and meat are good and plentiful and the garrison has not yet touched the "bully beef" and biscuit supplies. Luxuries are scarce, but the hospitals are well supplied with milk.

Want New Squadron Mobilized.

It was announced yesterday that a new training squadron will be sent to the cape where the channel squadron returns to Gibraltar. This leads the Daily Mail and other papers to urge the government to quickly mobilize a powerful squadron of cruisers to replace the ships sent away from European waters.

Predicts Move by Buller.

No news of any value has come from South Africa since the report of Gen. White's partial success at Ladysmith. There was a rumor that the war office had news but would not make it public for strategic reasons. The experts believe Gen. Buller has plans for a general movement on Friday which will lead to a battle on Saturday.

Militia Sails from England.

The first militia that has left England since the Crimean war sailed Thursday from Southampton in the steamships Nile and Umbria. They were the Fourth Derbyshire, the Sixth Warwick, the Fourth Durham and the Fourth Lancasters, numbering 2,800.

Queen Victoria 14 Ill.

London, Jan. 12.—The report was current in London last night that Queen Victoria is the victim of a slight attack of influenza. It is known that her majesty has taken the war much to heart, and it is feared that worry has helped her to contract the prevailing disease more than anything else. While the queen's condition is in no wise serious at present, the fact that so large a percentage of the aged who have been afflicted with influenza are dead has caused some little anxiety in the royal household.

Cabinet's Fall Predicted.

The announcement is made that parliament will meet on Jan. 30. The early fall of the Salisbury ministry is freely mentioned.

Henry F. Corbett Insane.

Racine, Wis., Jan. 12.—Henry F. Corbett of Milwaukee, held here, charged with the shooting of the Rev. and Mrs. David B. Cheney, is insane. He will be sent to a private asylum.

MR. MOODY'S WIDOW.

The Late Evangelist's Helpmeet a Sweet Faced, Motherly Woman.

Mrs. Dwight L. Moody, widow of the great evangelist who recently ended his long and active career, is a pleasant faced, low voiced, motherly looking woman who has never shared or wished to share in the publicity of her late husband. She has, however, taken her share of the work. For many years she accompanied him in his tours, bearing uncomplainingly the discomforts of travel and helping in the revivals. But always she has kept herself in the background, and only those who knew the great evangelist intimately have heard of this gentle, sweet faced woman.

Her maiden name was Miss Emma C. Revell. She is a sister of Fleming H. Revell, the Chicago publisher. It was in 1862 that she first met Mr. Moody, who was then just at the beginning of his career as an evangelist. During their first few years of married life their financial outlook was gloomy indeed. Mr. Moody had not then made a reputation as an evangelist, and although he was enthusiastic over his work, there were times when it seemed that he must abandon preaching in order to provide for his family. During these trials, as in the brighter years which followed, Mrs. Moody was always a faithful helpmeet.

Mrs. Moody is the mother of three children, two of whom have died recently. She still makes her home in Northfield, Mass. During the latter part of her husband's career she was compelled to give up the life of travel and devote herself to her home and her children. Her plans for the future have not been announced, but it is probable that she will attempt to carry on much of the work at Northfield which Mr. Moody had set on foot.

A POET BURGLAR.

He is a Very Good Poet and a Very Bad Burglar.

In Thomaston (Me.) state prison is a most singular convict. He is known as "the poet burglar."

He has just completed a book of verse, which is being widely commented upon. He writes good prose too. But he is an unrepentant and dangerous criminal, so it is unlikely that his literary gifts will gain for him his freedom.

The poet burglar is variously known as Paul Dennison and Fred Irving. He was born in Nova Scotia and was educated at the Boston university. His parents expected him to enter the ministry. Instead he tried to enter a house in Portland, Me., and shot at the policeman who surprised him. For this he was sentenced to serve 20 years in Thomaston.

But this Portland affair was not the beginning of his career of crime. By the time he was 19 he fell into bad ways, beginning his criminal career by petty thieving, which in time led to burglary. In 1883 he was sentenced to the Massachusetts state prison for seven years for beating and robbing a coachman in a Boston suburb. Of this sentence he served 5 years and 7 months, getting 17 months off for good behavior.

Being of a clerical appearance, with a mild manner, Dennison never attracted the attention of the police. He posed as a divinity student or minister, as the occasion might require. Sometimes he canvassed for a religious paper. When stopping at night at some good churchman's house, he would gather up what valuables there were, be had not give an alarm, declaring he had scared away a burglar.

During his stay at Thomaston Dennison has earned the title of "the literary convict." His verse is above the ordinary.

Report of Building Society.

New York, Jan. 12.—The annual report of the board of trustees of the Congregational Church-Building society states that the year 1899 was, with one exception, the best in the history of the society. The receipts for 1899 were $247,307. The disbursements were $153,947 to ninety-five churches on houses of worship and $18,450 to forty-one churches on parsonages. Pledges of aid were voted, $121,649 to 125 churches on houses of worship, $20,745 to sixty-five churches on parsonages.

Asylum Scandal to Be Sifted.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 12.—Indications point to intense activity in the case of the asylum trustees, against whom there are charges of irregularities in the discharge of their duty in the building of the Peoria asylum for the incurable insane. Judge Worthington in charging the grand jury made particular mention of this case and directed it, if any irregularity is discovered, to deal with the offenders fearlessly, without regard to who may be implicated.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every state in the Union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher of Liberty, W. Va., only repeats what has been said around the globe when he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for sale by Smith's Pharmacy, next to postoffice, Kodak agents.

A SAFETY POCKET.

Useful For Carrying Surplus Money, Jewels or Other Valuables.

"Pocketless dresses are the rule nowadays, with the possible exception of the jacket costume, which has a tiny scrap of a pouch scarcely large enough to accommodate church plate change or car fare; hence fair woman must perforce carry her purse in her hand or suspended from her belt, convenient for the light fingered gentry. No wonder, then, that the newspapers are full of advertisements for lost and stolen valuables and that in nine cases out of ten the losers are women. The wise maid or matron is she who carries only sufficient in her pocketbook to supply her immediate needs and who puts her surplus cash, diamonds and the like in a safety pocket, which, if it be small, she ties about her neck, and if large, about her waist," says The Designer in presenting illustrated instructions as follows for making the article recommended:

The outer pocket, also the inner one, should be made of chambray leather or suede kid, or of very strong unbleached muslin. It can be made of any desired size, but a very handy one is cut from a strip of cloth or kid 12 inches long and 5½ inches wide. This is for the outside. The inner pocket requires a strip half an inch shorter and half an inch narrower. The outer portion is folded in three parts, one of which is slightly shorter than the other two and forms the buttoned down flap. The larger strip is lined with waterproof or oil-silk to prevent the perspiration of the body from affecting the contents of the bag. The sides are stitched with double silk and a button sewed to the outside portion, a corresponding buttonhole being worked in the flap. The edges of the flap are buttonholed with silk and the monogram or initials of the owner worked on it. On the back of the pocket is clearly written or printed in indelible ink the full name and address of the person who wears it. A strip of very strong silk belting is stitched along the top of the pocket, this having ends long enough to tie about the neck or waist. The inside pocket is lined with flannel and has three buttons and buttonholes. It is slipped inside the first pocket, the turned over flap being placed downward, so that it is practically impossible for even a small jewel to sift out. In addition to the strings, the pocket should be pinned to the underwear or corsets with a safety pin at each top corner, thus making it doubly secure.

waisted cut and may prove forerunners of the empire style, concerning which there is much speculation at present.

A pretty cloak in lightweight cloth for early autumn is made with triple capes, the upper one stitched and extending to the floor, flaring at the bottom in an added flounce.

For the bicycle Frenchwomen are said to be adopting well cut divided skirts almost entirely.

Prussian Ministry Attacked.

Berlin, Jan. 12.—The expected and pre-announced attack on the Prussian ministry was made in the landtag Thursday, and while there were no immediate results, the sitting adjourned with the knowledge that a resolution condemning the ministry would be presented at an early date. All the parties represented in the landtag took a stand against the ministry, the extreme rightists and the leftists vying with each other in the opposition. The basis of the attack was the action of the government in removing from office members of the landtag holding provincial magistracies, and who voted against the canal bill at the last session.

Was Only a Sailor Joke.

A Kansas boy with the regulars going to Manila, writes thus: "For a time this morning we were very badly frightened, because we thought we were lost at sea. One of the sailors told us that the captain had neglected to wind up the compass the night before, that it had run down, and that nobody knew where we were, or which way to sail. After a while we found out it was one of those fool sailor jokes."
